Our Service

sub-10 is a platform for the provision of workplace training. Our engaging, lively content is broken up into modules of 10 minutes or less that is delivered to you in a way that makes immediate sense. You can track your progress and demonstrate your achievements to your employer – you may not actually be employed by the entity that's providing you with access to sub-10 but for simplicity, in this EULA we're going to use "employer" as a blanket term to describe principals (where you're an agent), clients (where you're a freelancer or other contractor) and employers (where you're an employee).

You

By using our service, you confirm that you are over the age of 16 and are capable of entering into contracts that are legally binding on you. You agree not transfer or sell your rights under this contract to anybody else nor may you use it as security.

By agreeing to these terms, you agree that we may use your personal data for the purpose of delivering the services to you and our business customers. If you wish to find out how we may collect, store, and process your personal information, whether you are a business user or an individual user, please read our Privacy Policy.

You warrant that any information that you upload to sub-10 will be accurate and up-to-date and will not infringe the intellectual property or other rights (including privacy) of any third party. You confirm that you will not upload any content that is in any way unlawful, illegitimate, unwarranted or distasteful including, without limitation, content that is offensive or defamatory. You agree that you will not use sub-10 for the distribution of unsolicited commercial messages. You acknowledge that if you breach these obligations, we may suspend or, at our discretion, terminate your account with immediate effect and without notice to you.

When registering, you will provide or be asked to confirm certain details such as you name and preferred contact email address. Once this is done you will be free to start using the sub-10 content arranged by your employer. Details concerning the use you make of the content will then be sent automatically to your employer, which is our client.
